

Update on the Timmins Community Safety and Well-Being Plan

Although the pandemic has changed the original course of action, know that the development of a Community Safety and Wellbeing (CSWB) Plan for the City of Timmins continues to progress and move forward.

What’s been accomplished? Where we at? Let us take a look:

Task	Done
	✓
Establish a CSWB Advisory Committee.	✓
Communications and Engagement: Provide the community with context about why the plan is being developed.	✓ And on-going
Community partner (local service organizations, specific groups, and citizens) involvement and engagement via focus groups and statistical data gathering.	✓
Community input via public survey (Extended to May 2020)	✓
Community Engagement Sessions (scheduled from March-May 2020)	Cancelled due to COVID19 Fall session TBD
Asset and Gap Mapping	✓
Identification of Local Priorities	✓
Plan Development and Approval	July-December 2020
Implementation	January 2021

On behalf of the CSWB Advisory Committee, thank you to everyone who took the time to provide information and data, complete the survey, as well as share personal stories, thoughts, solutions, and ideas as it pertains to our community’s well-being and safety.

What is next? The following months will focus on the plan development and approval. After and perhaps the most important task is taking the plan and putting it into action. The success of actualizing our plan requires a shared responsibility and community approach.

The Province has provided a framework that supports the mandatory legislative requirements. This framework outlines the tasks, roles and timelines that are required for all municipalities to take in order to be in compliance with the new legislation. More information about the legislation, can be found by visiting weblinks listed on this page and on the Province of Ontario Community Safety and Wellbeing website).
